Bezos's mouthpiece (the Washington Post) doxxing Libs of Tik Tok is further evidence that the purpose of the corporate media is industrial scale harassment.

Time for defamation reform for the media, and to break up their Big Tech enablers.

Bezos's mouthpiece (the Washington Post) doxxing Libs of Tik Tok is further evidence that the purpose of the corporate media is industrial scale harassment.

Time for defamation reform for the media, and to break up their Big Tech enablers.

I have a buddy in France, and they just had an election there. Polls closed a few hours ago and they already know who the winners are. Must be nice to live in a first world country.

France determines the winner by popular vote. We use an electoral college system

France has runoff elections for President; we don't

Continental France has one timezone. We have 4 continental timezones

Polls close at the same time in continental France, not in the US

France determines the winner by popular vote We use an electoral college system

France has runoff elections for President; we don't

Continental France has one timezone We have 4 continental timezones

Polls close at the same time in continental France, not in the US

I have a buddy in France, and they just had an election there. Polls closed a few hours ago and they already know who the winners are. Must be nice to live in a first world country.

      France determines the winner by popular vote. We use an electoral college system. France has runoff elections for President; we don't. Continental France has one timezone. We have 4 continental timezones. Polls close at the same time in continental France, not in the US.

Good rundown from @LeeSmithDC on Biden's obsession with re-entering the disastrous Obama Iran deal. One of the President Trump's best foreign policy decisions was getting out of that deal, and we need to fight Biden hard on this.

Aside from the particular policy here, Biden is so clearly overmatched on all of these issues that we should pressure him to do as little as possible. You go to war with the generals you have, and Biden is a complete joke.

The most important thing @elonmusk could do is make the content moderation algorithms public. Let's see what these people are really doing. And if it's happening on Twitter it's probably happening with all other social media.

> Andrew Surabian @Surabees
> While it is important that @elonmusk brings back everyone who was banned from Twitter due to wrong think, it's even more important that he gets rid of the shadow bans/twitter algorithms, used to suppress the reach of conservative accounts and artificially boost liberal accounts

Big moment for @JDVance1 -the guy who wrote that book about the HILLBILLIES. Trump acknowledged that JD "said some bad Shit about me" --but if he went by that standard, there would be nobody to endorse. GREAT MOMENT

Even if the very worst of the Democrats' claims about J6 are true (they're not), it is an insult to all of us that so many people are rotting in prison without being offered a speedy trial. These people are political prisoners, and their captivity is an assault on democracy.

Calling J6 a "terrorist attack" is just insane. And from 60 Minutes, nothing about the FBI entrapment in Michigan or the fact that the bureau colluded with the media to suppress the Hunter Biden laptop story.       The spike in crime over the last year has led to more death than "police brutality" over the same period. I just wish people who screwed up would own it. If you actually talk to cops, they are terrified.

      In Columbus recently, a cop shot someone who was about to stab a girl to death, and that cop was the target of hatred from some of our biggest celebrities and media personalities. Our society attacked him for saving a life. This madness has got to stop.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns. Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

The other garbage talking point is that "defund the police" hasn't led to substantial funding restrictions. See below for dishonest framing from ABC But the point is that cops are terrified to do their jobs, which makes our cities unsafe

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

I just watched a boy recount an act of offensive violence committed against him, and break down in tears. Everyone, from the "journalists" who condoned this violence to the president of the United States who called this kid a white supremacist, is culpable for this

We leave our boys without fathers. We let the wolves set fire to their communities. And when human nature tells them to go and defend what no one else is defending, we bring the full weight of the state and the global monopolists against them.

Referring to humans as other animals is a classic step toward endorsing genocide. You think Rittenhouse is forgiven for murder but others are not forgiven for being at a protest, unarmed, or even rioting themselves? Why can't you empathize with them?

Forgiving student debt is a massive windfall to the rich, to the college educated, and most of all to the corrupt university administrators of America. No bailouts for a corrupt system. Republicans must fight this with every ounce of our energy and power.

CONSERVATIVE OHIO'S DEFENDER

JD Vance Releases Statement for Holocaust Remembrance Day

CINCINNATI – President Trump-endorsed Ohio U.S. Senate candidate JD Vance released today the following statement for Holocaust Remembrance Day:

"Today is Holocaust Remembrance Day, and I'm reminded of a recent conversation I had with a friend in Israel who explained why her house was built out of concrete. "Well, we don't have many trees in Israel, so wood is pretty scarce, but the concrete is also nice because it makes it likelier we'll survive a rocket attack." To me, the great lesson of the Holocaust is not just that there is incredible evil in the world, but that otherwise normal people can be whipped into a frenzy to commit unspeakable acts of violence. This is a lesson that must speak to all of us, even in the present day. Never again."

   Wait a minute! JD Vance was at the master's heavy fight last night? Good thing the completely valid online poll remembers he was there behind the potted plant. I'm sure Thiel did not help with the poll at all.

   Here's Josh Mandel on stage literally reading his TV Ad scripts for his staged fight with Gibbons (he did this repeatedly). His entire cringe fake tough guy act was for the cameras he had there filming. What a gigantic phony.pic.twitter.com/Wk0fJPwhM7

Bezos's mouthpiece (the Washington Post) doxxing Libs of Tik Tok is further evidence that the purpose of the corporate media is industrial scale harassment.

Time for defamation reform for the media, and to break up their Big Tech enablers.

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns. Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

The other garbage talking point is that "defund the police" hasn't led to substantial funding restrictions. See below for dishonest framing from ABC But the point is that cops are terrified to do their jobs, which makes our cities unsafe

The fact that things like this are leaking suggests the elites of the left don't care about norms or anything else besides winning. They have declared full scale culture war on multiple fronts. Conservatives should wake up to this new reality.

Forgiving student debt is a massive windfall to the rich, to the college educated, and most of all to the corrupt university administrators of America. No bailouts for a corrupt system. Republicans must fight this with every ounce of our energy and power.

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns. Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

The other garbage talking point is that "defund the police" hasn't led to substantial funding restrictions. See below for dishonest framing from ABC. But the point is that cops are terrified to do their jobs, which makes our cities unsafe

The other garbage talking point is that "defund the police" hasn't led to substantial funding restrictions. See below for dishonest framing from ABC. But the point is that cops are terrified to do their jobs, which makes our cities unsafe

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

Matt Dolan Releases Statement on the U.S. Senate Republican Primary

Independence, Ohio: This evening, Matt Dolan released the following statement on the results of the Republican Primary for U.S. Senate in Ohio.

"JD Vance and I have debated our differences, and in this hard fought campaign he was successful. I know we share a love for our country because it's not just a place, but an idea, and a cause worth fighting for. Ohio Republicans have spoken and now it's time to look forward, united in our conservative convictions to make our state and nation a better place to live, work, and raise a family.

"No state has been hurt more by Joe Biden's agenda than Ohio. The livelihoods of our families, workers and businesses remain under threat by the broken promises and weak leadership of radicalized, one-party rule in Washington, D.C. Those fortunate to have a job are working harder for less. Congressman Tim Ryan votes with Joe Biden 100 percent of the time. He represents a continuation of the same failed policies that undermine prosperity, threaten Ohio workers, and restrain the vitality of American competition with China. Just as I will never quit fighting for Ohio, I pledge to unite our party and endorse JD Vance to be our next U.S. Senator."

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns. Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

Also, a note to political journalists: the best pollster in the race was @TonyFabrizioGOP. Maybe in the future don't treat garbage polls from Remington the same as Tony's because they're both "internal." The best independent pollster was @RobertCahaly. Kudos to both.

The foreign policy establishment gets rich when American children die for dumb ideas; they make nothing when our leaders solve real problems. This is why we focus so much on Ukraine and so little on our own border.

JD Vance Issues Statement Slamming 'America Last' Opponents on Ukraine

CINCINNATI – JD Vance, candidate for U.S. Senate in Ohio, today released the following statement:

"Vladimir Putin is an evil man, who has done a number of evil things during his time in government. But spare me the performative affection for the Ukraine, a corrupt nation run by oligarchs, that is as close to a functional democracy in 2022 as Afghanistan was when Joe Biden handed it over to the Taliban in 2021.

"Of course, we all pray for peace for the innocent Ukrainians caught up in this, but American foreign policy has been broken for too long.

"The media and political elites are seething at me because I uttered aloud what everyone deep down knows is true: that the Russia-Ukraine border dispute has nothing to do with our national security, no American interest is served by our intervention, and that the obsession with Ukraine from our idiot leaders serves no function except to distract us from our actual problems.

"Now, I expect this kind of hysteria from the Democrats and the media. I was disappointed to see Jane Timken and Mike Gibbons jumping on the America last bandwagon. While each claim to be "America First," their recent statements reveal that they are Cheney Republicans masquerading as allies of Donald Trump. Remember, the people obsessing over Russia's conduct today are the same people who tried to

CINCINNATI – JD Vance, candidate for U.S. Senate in Ohio, today released the following statement:

"Vladimir Putin is an evil man, who has done a number of evil things during his time in government. But spare me the performative affection for the Ukraine, a corrupt nation run by oligarchs, that is as close to a functional democracy in 2022 as Afghanistan was when Joe Biden handed it over to the Taliban in 2021.

"Of course, we all pray for peace for the innocent Ukrainians caught up in this, but American foreign policy has been broken for too long.

"The media and political elites are seething at me because I uttered aloud what everyone deep down knows is true: that the Russia-Ukraine border dispute has nothing to do with our national security, no American interest is served by our intervention, and that the obsession with Ukraine from our idiot leaders serves no function except to distract us from our actual problems.

"Now I expect this kind of hysteria from the Democrats and the media. I was disappointed to see Jane Timken and Mike Gibbons jumping on the America last bandwagon. While each claim to be "America First," their recent statements reveal that they are Cheney Republicans masquerading as allies of Donald Trump. Remember, the people obsessing over Russia's conduct today are the same people who tried to

What's happening in Ukraine doesn't threaten our national security, but it does distract our leaders from the things that do actually threaten it, like the wide open southern border & all the fentanyl coming across killing American kids.

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns. Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

The foreign policy establishment gets rich when American children die for dumb ideas; they make nothing when our leaders solve real problems. This is why we focus so much on Ukraine and so little on our own border.

Everyone is losing their mind about this, but I've been calling for it at every town hall I do. Either the president controls the executive branch or he doesn't. If he doesn't, we don't live in a Republic, we live in a civil service driven oligarchy.

Everyone is losing their mind about this, but I've been calling for it at every town hall I do. Either the president controls the executive branch or he doesn't. If he doesn't, we don't live in a Republic, we live in a civil service driven oligarchy.

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

We have a massive spike in violent crime because police officers are afraid to do their jobs. Any "crime prevention" effort that focuses on job training or gun seizures is a giant distraction.

The dumbest argument you hear is that the spike in crime is because of guns. Oh really? Was there an explosion of firearm ownership over the last two years, or did maybe something else happen?

The other garbage talking point is that "defund the police" hasn't led to substantial funding restrictions. See below for dishonest framing from ABC. But the point is that cops are terrified to do their jobs, which makes our cities unsafe

Here's Kamala Harris stooge Tim Ryan defending abortion through 40 weeks. This is a barbaric position anywhere in the world (even European nations typically don't allow abortion after 12 weeks). But it's an especially radical position in Ohio.

The fact that things like this are leaking suggests the elites of the left don't care about norms or anything else besides winning. They have declared full scale culture war on multiple fronts. Conservatives should wake up to this new reality.

Here's Kamala Harris stooge Tim Ryan defending abortion through 40 weeks. This is a barbaric position anywhere in the world (even European nations typically don't allow abortion after 12 weeks). But it's an especially radical position in Ohio.

Calling J6 a “terrorist attack” is just insane. And from 60 Minutes, nothing about the FBI entrapment in Michigan or the fact that the bureau colluded with the media to suppress the Hunter Biden laptop story. Time to investigate the corrupt leadership of this organization.

Calling J6 a “terrorist attack” is just insane. And from 60 Minutes, nothing about the FBI entrapment in Michigan or the fact that the bureau colluded with the media to suppress the Hunter Biden laptop story. Time to investigate the corrupt leadership of this organization.

I notice that @TimRyan, who has taken the radical position of defending the late-term abortion of babies up until the moment of birth, refuses to speak out against the leftwing mob targeting Supreme Court justices & shamefully interrupting houses of worship across the country.

Calling J6 a “terrorist attack” is just insane. And from 60 Minutes, nothing about the FBI entrapment in Michigan or the fact that the bureau colluded with the media to suppress the Hunter Biden laptop story. Time to investigate the corrupt leadership of this organization.

Tim Ryan pretends to care about the working class, but he's a fraud who does nothing while his friend Joe Biden uses the ATF to illegally track your gun transactions and trample on your 2nd Amendment rights. Unlike Tim Ryan, I'll fight to end Biden's illegal gun database.

Also, a note to political journalists: the best pollster in the race was @TonyFabrizioGOP. Maybe in the future don't treat garbage polls from Remington the same as Tony's because they're both "internal." The best independent pollster was @RobertCahaly. Kudos to both.

Also, a note to political journalists: the best pollster in the race was @TonyFabrizioGOP. Maybe in the future don't treat garbage polls from Remington the same as Tony's because they're both "internal." The best independent pollster was @RobertCahaly. Kudos to both.

This moronic @TimRyan ad shows 2 key points:

1) Dems are completely drowning in McCarthyism: every attack is about finding some tenuous connection to the Kremlin.

2) Dems despise free speech. Rumble doesn't promote Russian media; it just refuses to censor like Big Tech:

Tim Ryan @TimRyan

JD Vance profits off of a company spreading Putin's propaganda. Is it any wonder he "doesn't really care what happens to Ukraine?"

Calling J6 a “terrorist attack” is just insane. And from 60 Minutes, nothing about the FBI entrapment in Michigan or the fact that the bureau colluded with the media to suppress the Hunter Biden laptop story. Time to investigate the corrupt leadership of this organization.

Also, a note to political journalists: the best pollster in the race was @TonyFabrizioGOP. Maybe in the future don't treat garbage polls from Remington the same as Tony's because they're both "internal." The best independent pollster was @RobertCahaly. Kudos to both.

JD...I'm a gun dealer...need to fact check you on your narrative. The only records the ATF has in their possession is for full auto or suppressors. They have no clue who owns any guns. All those records are kept with us.

Alex Jones is a far more reputable source of information than Rachel Maddow.

One of them is censored by the regime. The other promoted by it.

> Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald

The fact that things like this are leaking suggests the elites of the left don't care about norms or anything else besides winning. They have declared full scale culture war on multiple fronts. Conservatives should wake up to this new reality.

The fact that things like this are leaking suggests the elites of the left don't care about norms or anyth ng else besides winn ng. They have declared full scale culture war on mu tiple fronts. Conservatives shou d wake up to th s new reality.

Tim Ryan pretends to care about the working class, but he's a fraud who does nothing while his friend Joe Biden uses the ATF to illegally track your gun transactions and trample on your 2nd Amendment rights. Unlike Tim Ryan, I'll fight to end Biden's illegal gun database.

Seb just texted me and told me his account was hacked. It's ridiculous that they still haven't shut it down the hackers returned control to the rightful owner.

Hope the news of the leaked opinion is true. Would be an amazing victory for the pro life movement and, most importantly, the innocents we fight for.

Tim Ryan pretends to care about the working class, but he's a fraud who does nothing while his friend Joe Biden uses the ATF to illegally track your gun transactions and trample on your 2nd Amendment rights. Unlike Tim Ryan, I'll fight to end Biden's illegal gun database.

      Cut spending. Cut the Federal government. Last time the republicans had control of both houses and the presidency, spending only increased. Cut it.

Tim Ryan pretends to care about the working class, but he's a fraud who does nothing while his friend Joe Biden uses the ATF to illegally track your gun transactions and trample on your 2nd Amendment rights. Unlike Tim Ryan, I'll fight to end Biden's illegal gun database.

   What tiring nonsense. A majority of those funds in portion to the bill is just pork which don't necessarily go towards infrastructure on the ground spending.

The fact that things like this are leaking suggests the elites of the left don't care about norms or anything else besides winning. They have declared full scale culture war on multiple fronts. Conservatives should wake up to this new reality.

Like most Ohioans, I'm w/ @JDVance1 on this issue. Lawful immigration matters

It brings meaning to being an American citizen & keeps our nation (& its elections) safe and secure. It's also why I preside over naturalization ceremonies & help register new citizens to vote

What happened in Buffalo was racist murder. Your hyperbolic attempt to spew DNC talking-points connecting it with concerns on illegal immigration is why you're viewed as a discredited partisan hack rather than a respected journalist.

Oh, and @JDVance1 is going to win.

The fact that things like this are leaking suggests the elites of the left don't care about norms or anything else besides winning. They have declared full scale culture war on multiple fronts. Conservatives should wake up to this new reality.

JD Vance Issues Statement on School Shooting in Uvalde

CINCINNATI – Ohio U.S. Senate candidate JD Vance today issued the following statement regarding the school shooting in Uvalde, Texas.

"Many will grasp for easy solutions, as they often do in moments like these. We should first learn the full truth, but whatever we learn, many will call for large scale gun confiscation. This approach would be a mistake, not least because it wouldn't work. An honest assessment of our current situation should acknowledge that fact," said Vance. "It's obvious that our schools have become targets for the worst kinds of villains and psychos. It's time to recognize this reality and create single points of entry for schools along with armed guards. We need to address the culture of fatherlessness and drug addiction in our country, focus on the importance of family so that our next generation is guided and empowered with strong support systems. Finally, we need to deal with the mental and spiritual sickness that drives so many young Americans to kill, and put forward more resources to combat serious mental health problems. This will do far more to make our schools safer than empty moralizing from politicians."

It's essentially rewarding bad behavior by the middle class. My parents scrimped and saved to put their kids through college, while other parents w/ bigger income were blowing their money on top-shelf booze and fancy vacays, but told their kids, "You're on your own for college."

So all of us agree that we don't want insane people to go and buy a gun and kill people. The question is how to actually accomplish that goal. Importantly, it's already a violation of federal law to sell a gun to a crazy person. So what do red flag laws do?

They allow the government to eliminate peoples' rights without any due process. Say your neighbor calls the police and says you're a bad guy who's about to commit a crime? Or maybe your ex complains about you after an argument? Now the cops can show up and remove your firearms.

Imagine this approach with any other set of rights. Imagine a neighbor complaining about someone, and then having that person thrown in jail. Or say a guy's ex wife (think Amber Herd) claims he was abusive, and so we take away his right to free speech.

J.D. Vance @DVance1 · 14s
There's another angle to this: we're ignoring that it's already against the law to provide or sell a weapon to a crazy person. Why do so many people, from the shooters in Uvalde and Parkland to many others, get guns when there were many signs that they were a problem?

J.D. Vance @DVance1 · 13s
The answer (in part) goes to how we treat mental health and institutionalization. Walk around any big city in America these days and you have a very good chance of meeting an obviously insane person who is a threat to themselves and others. As a society, we ignore them

J.D. Vance @DVance1 · 13s
But whether they're an isolated teen in Texas or a screaming insane person outside of the New York subway, we need to ignore less and institutionalize more. Is that a strong response? Sure is, which is why we have due process before we commit anyone to a mental institution

J.D. Vance @DVance1 · 13s
Yet we need to be willing to institutionalize people more, both to clean up our streets and also to help some obviously very sick people. That would be far more effective than any "red flag" law. And we'd respect important rights in the process

J.D. Vance @DVance1 · 13s
There's so much more to do. American schools are clearly seen as soft targets by evil people. Is this sad? Yes. Do I wish it weren't so? Of course. But it's reality. So, we need to bolster school security and make it harder to get into schools in the first place

If you want to keep guns out of the hands of the mentally ill- and you should- there is a solution out there that 1) doesn't harm lawful citizens, 2) would actually address the severe mental health crisis in this country, and 3) might actually work. Joe Biden should start there

None of these would improve the gun violence problem in this country. All of them satisfy the urge to "do something" without actually doing anything useful, at great cost to the rights of people who follow the law. Let's take just one example, "red flag" laws

Forgiving student debt is a massive windfall to the rich, to the college educated, and most of all to the corrupt university administrators of America. No bailouts for a corrupt system. Republicans must fight this with every ounce of our energy and power.

         How much of the outstanding debt is accumulated interest? It is bullshit to make money off the backs of young students. Some people have paid five times the original loan and still owe money. Make all student loans interest free.

Forgiving student debt is a massive windfall to the rich, to the college educated, and most of all to the corrupt university administrators of America. No bailouts for a corrupt system. Republicans must fight this with every ounce of our energy and power.

U.S. SENATE
CONSERVATIVE OUTSIDER

JD Vance Blasts Tim Ryan and Joe Biden for Outrageous Energy Policies, Gas Prices Surging Over $5/Gallon

Vance Slams Tim Ryan for Radical Voting Record, Hopelessly Aligned with Joe Biden and to Blame for Today's Gas Prices Crushing Ohio Families

CINCINNATI — JD Vance, candidate for U.S. Senate in Ohio, released the following statement as the average price of regular-grade gas in Ohio today surpassed $5 per gallon.

"There is no one else to blame for the record-high gas prices that are devastating Ohioans other than Joe Biden and his extreme allies in Congress like Tim Ryan.

"Tim Ryan is a failed 20-year career politician who has voted for Joe Biden's radical inflationary agenda 100 percent of the time in Congress. While Ryan may lie thru his teeth to the people of Ohio about being a so-called "moderate," his actual voting record tells the story of a Congressman who sold his constituents out to leftwing special interests long ago.

"Ohio families are actively suffering today because Tim Ryan is too weak and too extreme to stand up to the destructive policies of Joe Biden. Instead of acting as a check on Biden's far-left extremism, Ryan has been a cheerleader for Biden's inflation-causing wasteful spending and anti-energy policies when he's in Washington, while he tries to tell Ohioans he is fighting for us through dishonest television ads.

"Make no mistake about it, the Biden-Ryan agenda has failed Ohio. I'm running for Senate to put an end to their leftwing radicalism, stop this inflation and reduce rising energy costs, so middle-class Ohioans can make good lives for themselves and thrive once again."

For background, the average price of regular-grade gas in Ohio in January 2021 when Biden took office was $2.32/gallon. By October 2021, the cost increased by 39.2 percent, landing at an average of $3.23/gallon. The average cost today surpassed $5.00/gallon, an increase of 118.91 percent since Biden took office.

The media and the professional politicians unleashed a deranged smear campaign against the Supreme Court. Now a crazy person has been arrested outside of Justice Kavanaugh's home, with weapons and a clear intent to kill. This insanity must stop.

      It's essentially rewarding bad behavior by the middle class. My parents scrimped and saved to put their kids through college, while other parents w/ bigger income were blowing their money on top-shelf booze and fancy vacays, but told their kids, "You're on your own for college."

      And that means the kids of those parent should get no relief? Some parents weren't able to "scrumptious and save." What about their kids? They just don't deserve an opportunity to try to do better?

      How much of the outstanding debt is accumulated interest? It is bullshit to make money off the backs of young students. Some people have paid five times the original loan and still owe money. Make all student loans interest free.

Forgiving student debt is a massive windfall to the rich, to the college educated, and most of all to the corrupt university administrators of America. No bailouts for a corrupt system. Republicans must fight this with every ounce of our energy and power.

He believes that it's the right thing to do for the country. Having a debt burdened populace is dragging our economy down. No American with an understanding of economics would ever want to advocate for anything but this

It's not a lack of self awareness. It's fully intentional, to attempt to shift the focus onto the individual consumer instead of massive systemic changes that need to take place.

Forgiving student debt is a massive windfall to the rich, to the college educated, and most of all to the corrupt university administrators of America. No bailouts for a corrupt system. Republicans must fight this with every ounce of our energy and power.

I don't understand these people. Even if I totally shared their worldview (obviously I don't), do they really think that if NPR framed issues more to their liking, that would do...anything?

There s another angle to th s: we're ignoring that it's already against the law to provide or se a weapon to a crazy person. Why do so many peop e, from the shooters in Uva de and Park and to many others, get guns when there were many signs that they were a problem?

The answer (in part) goes to how we treat mental health and institutionalization. Walk around any big city in America these days and you have a very good chance of meeting an obviously insane person who is a threat to themselves and others. As a society, we ignore them.

But whether they're an isolated teen in Texas or a screaming insane person outside of the New York subway, we need to ignore ess and nstitutional ze more. Is that a strong response? Sure is, which is why we have due process before we commit anyone to a mental nstitution

Forgiving student debt is a massive windfall to the rich, to the college educated, and most of all to the corrupt university administrators of America. No bailouts for a corrupt system. Republicans must fight this with every ounce of our energy and power.

I'm glad it's a joke for u Matt and that you're lucky enough to get access to great care, but for those who have had their lives destroyed by the virus and who have had loved ones die from or suffer w/ LC it's not funny. Hope you can have a little more empathy, especially today

"He plays a moderate on his TV commercials, but he plays a radical when he's in Washington DC...that really is the debate in this race: whether Tim Ryan can pretend to be somebody that his record shows he's clearly not."

None of these would improve the gun violence problem in this country. All of them satisfy the urge to "do something" without actually doing anything useful, at great cost to the rights of people who follow the law. Let's take just one example, "red flag" laws

> President Biden @POTUS 2 Jun
> United States government official
> We need to
>
> Ban assault weapons — and if we can't, then we should raise the age to purchase them from 18 to 21.
>
> Ban high-capacity magazines.
>
> Strengthen background checks.
>
> Enact safe storage laws and red flag laws.
>
> Repeal gun manufacturers' immunity from liability.

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
So all of us agree that we don't want insane people to go and buy a gun and kill people. The question is how to actually accomplish that goal. Importantly, it's already a violation of federal law to sell a gun to a crazy person. So what do red flag laws do?

72 172 1,252

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
They allow the government to eliminate peoples' rights without any due process. Say your neighbor calls the police and says you're a bad guy who's about to commit a crime? Or maybe your ex complains about you after an argument? Now the cops can show up and remove your firearms

94 257 1,451

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
Imagine this approach with any other set of rights. Imagine a neighbor complaining about someone, and then having that person thrown in jail. Or say a guy's ex-wife (think Amber Herd) claims he was abusive, and so we take away his right to free speech.

40 140 1,067

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
Maybe the neighbor has a point. Maybe the ex-wife is right. But we have a simple principle in this country: innocent until proven guilty. If you want to strip someone's rights, you've got to go through a court of law--that's true even with those rights progressives don't like

26 135 1,128

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
There's another angle to this. we're ignoring that it's already against the law to provide or sell a weapon to a crazy person. Why do so many people, from the shooters in Uvalde and Parkland to many others, get guns when there were many signs that they were a problem?

30 124 995

J.D. Vance
@JDVance1

The answer (in part) goes to how we treat mental health and institutionalization. Walk around any big city in America these days and you have a very good chance of meeting an obviously insane person who is a threat to themselves and others. As a society, we ignore them.

But whether they're an isolated teen in Texas or a screaming insane person outside of the New York subway, we need to ignore less and institutionalize more. Is that a strong response? Sure is, which is why we have due process before we commit anyone to a mental institution.

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
Yet we need to be willing to institutionalize people more, both to clean up our streets and also to help some obviously very sick people. That would be far more effective than any "red flag" law. And we'd respect important rights in the process

188 355 1,693

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
There's so much more to do. American schools are clearly seen as soft targets by evil people. Is this sad? Yes. Do I wish it weren't so? Of course. But it's reality. So, we need to bolster school security and make it harder to get into schools in the first place

54 146 1,105

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
I've not even addressed the deeper problems here. We have some very troubled young men who carry out these mass shootings. We have horrible inner-city gun violence that kills far more people than any of the one-off shootings that gather headlines

33 128 1,028

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
We have a deranged media that covers the mass murders that fit their narrative while ignoring those that don't (do a search for "Tulsa" and "Waukesha" to see what I mean). And one of our deepest problems is politicians who use slogans that poll well instead of being honest.

56 395 1,999

J.D. Vance @JDVance1 3 Jun
If you want to keep guns out of the hands of the mentally ill--and you should--there is a solution out there that 1) doesn't harm lawful citizens, 2) would actually address the severe mental health crisis in this country, and 3) might actually work. Joe Biden should start there
